

FROM THE DESK OF FATHER JONATHAN

JUNE 18, 2017

This weekend we celebrate "Corpus Christi". At one mass in each of our main languages (9:30, 11:00am, and 12:15pm) we will process the Eucharist around the church (chapel) at the end of the distribution of Communion, as a simple reminder that we are called to worship Christ publicly and that he is not to be only in the Tabernacle but with us always, and everywhere. The Holy Father leads a Corpus Christi procession each year in Rome from St. John Lateran Basilica to the Basilica of St. Mary Major. During the years I lived in Rome I attended this procession every year. It was so inspiring to see the Pope in public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament.

Thank you to so many of you who helped make last week's St. Anthony Feast such a wonderful time. We worked especially hard to make the Feast cleaner. Not an easy task! Watching many of you sweep the streets very late at night and early morning made me very proud. Next year we can do even better! We just need more people involved. We will start recruiting and organizing earlier to give concrete tasks to as many people as possible.

Wasn't the weather wonderful! Thank you, St. Anthony!!

God Bless,
Father Jonathan
